Statement of Purpose

Police Vedette is a free quarterly public information document intended to provide a record of initiatives and achievement, an insight into the operations of the Police Service and base research to interested members of the community. Each edition is themed on a particular subject and is available from police stations, district and regional offices, and Police Headquarters, Brisbane.

Cover Photograph

Senior Constable Michael Clarke (foreground) and Sergeant Rechelle Keane, Scientific Section, Queensland Police Service were called out on a job to assess the discovery of skeletal remains. Assistance is often sought from scientific officers, such as Senior Constable Clarke and Sergeant Keane, to distinguish between human and non-human bones. This distinction could eliminate the need for further crime scene investigation or could be the beginning of an investigation which leads from the crime scene to the court room.

Photographer (front cover)

The cover photograph was taken by Senior Constable Stuart Cross, Photographic Section, Police Headquarters, Queensland Police Service.

Journal Title

The word Vedette is the official call sign of the Queensland Police Service. It is used for all national and international communications. The title was adopted for the Queensland Police Service journal in 1977.
